Welcome to The Porter House Hotel Sydney - MGallery Collection

Located on Castlereagh Street, our The Porter House Hotel is nestled amongst the eclectic mix of heritage and modern buildings in the heart of Sydney's CBD and occupies the first 10 floors of a 36-storey multi-faceted tower within the re-imagined Porter House, dine, drink and stay precinct.

Take a journey of discovery where rich history meets modern elegance. The heritage listed Porter House building was commissioned in 1876 by Philanthropist and Horticulturalist, Hugh Dixon who became head of Dixon & Sons Tobacco Factory and Warehouse in 1880.

In 1891, furniture manufacturer WW Campbell & Co and famous leather merchant George Johnson & Sons leased the building from the Dixon family, further cementing our historical association to quality artisanship.

A stylish, urban sanctuary in every way, The Porter House Hotel – MGallery is designed by award-winning architect Angelo Candelapas. With a modern take on old designs such as contemporary curved windows that reference the original building's iconic brick archways. Notably, a new walkway has been constructed between the two buildings, literal bridge between old and new stories.

Ripples and Droplets by Maria Fernanda Cardoso

A 335 sqm abstract mural by the renowned artist Maria Fernanda Cardoso reaches eleven storeys and was designed by Maria in collaboration with head architect, Angelo Candelapas. This incredible mural spanning the length of one wall on The Porter House Hotel – MGallery tower is believed to be the largest public artwork by an Australian artist in the Sydney CBD.

The artwork features arches, circles and colours that complement the heritage of the original Porter House building, while bringing an extra element of modernism to the Hotel. The mural is tattooed to the concrete, meaning it won't wash off so pedestrians and guests alike can enjoy the public artwork for decades to come.
